(Namik Kemal (1840 – 1888) was one of those reformes. He was a natural poet, and when he reached 18 year-old, he published his first collection of poems. His most remembered poem (Hurriyet Kasidesi the poem of Freedom), and for that he was called (National and Freedom Poet), During his short life, he inspired many people with his writings. He tried to reform the Turkish language. To make it pure without idioms (or expressions) from other languages such as Arabic or Persian.) On the other hand, he did not stop using those
