Thesis Title	National Trend in Jewahery Poetry and Bahar
Year	2006-1427
Abstract	It is common to say that poetry has a great role in inciting people, for its voice louder than that of the cannon. Many wars were caused by the poems of some poet; and no nation can have history and heritage, if it has no poet, because the history and heritage of a nation are written by them. If we look at the volumes of our poet, history will be highlighted. Among these poet is Mohammed Mahdi Al – Jawaheri, the greatest Arab poet, whose poetry reflects the political, economic and social history of Iraq during the twentieth century. Al – Jawaheri has become a famous poet, who devoted his poetry in defending the rights of the people since the Iraqi Revolution of 1920 until his death in 1997, yet he got nothing, in return, but poverty, injustice, and imprisonment. He even died in exile and his body was buried away from his native land.
