Thesis Titel	The diminution in German and in Arabic
Year	2011
Abstract	This comparative study of the diminution in German and in Arabic has the goal of a survey of the type in this area on existing resources, information about the preferences of their use and the functions of these funds, which go beyond the purely formal feature of "smallness" examples demonstrate. Since the center of the work, the German stands - seen though from an Arab perspective - the representation of depth for the German is deeper than the Arabian, which has to some extent, the background for the presentation, with one no doubt on the fundamental typological differences should take between two languages.
